

CULLOM SAYS NO WAR WITH JAPANESE NOW

Veteran Member Of Committee On Foreign Relations, Scoffs At Idea Of Trouble

CALIFORNIA QUESTION IS SETTLED

Says Senator Perkins Was Not Talking With Knowledge Of Conditions When He Said War Was Sure To Come.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—"This war talk is all bosh," says Senator Cullom of Illinois.

"I'd like to go to war with Senator Perkins of California for talking the way he did last night."

"There is no more chance of our going to war with Japan over this little school question than there is of fighting China, Russia, or Great Britain."

These statements coming from Senator Cullom, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations after a conference with the President this morning sets at rest the startling news made public last night.

Senator Perkins said last night, and the statement was given widespread publication:

"We have laid the foundation for commercial supremacy on the Pacific coast, and at some point in the future course of national destiny the pathway of national progress on the part of Japan and the United States will converge to a point of inevitable conflict."

This statement was given before the session of the National Geographic society in which he discussed at length the relations existing between this country and Japan. He engaged the Japanese as a tenacious race, who never assimilate with other countries but always rush to the assistance of their native land.

There is considerable relief shown by the statement of Senator Cullom as the California education question has become a heated topic. The speeches of Raynor and Geary have added flame to the matter and Secretary Taft has been kept busy trying to quiet the uproar that is under the surface in diplomatic circles.

It is generally believed that the government will lose its case in the federal courts on the question of forcing the city of San Francisco to admit Japanese children to its schools. Anticipating such an outcome, the administration wants to avoid the consequences, for it fears that it cannot fulfill the assurance given to the Japanese government on this subject.

The Japanese government has let it be known that as soon as the federal courts have passed on the test case the question will be considered of a national and not a sectional character and will be treated as such.

Dozens of telegrams were sent Friday by members of the California delegation to prominent men at home counselling moderation and cessation of inflammatory utterances.

QUAINT CUSTOM OF GIVING AWAY BREAD

According to Request of Deceased Ceremony Is Performed on Gravestone in Yard.

London, Feb. 2.—In the little town of Woodbridge, in Suffolk, there was held today the annual observance of an exceedingly quaint custom. In 1738 Thomas Carlowe died and left a will ordaining that he should be buried in his own garden and that every year on Candlemas day bread was to be placed upon his gravestone and given to poor people by the rector of Woodbridge. As years went on, the custom was neglected, and though the tombstone was removed the body was left undisturbed. And now every Candlemas day sees a table covered with linen cloth placed in a dark out-house behind the Bull hotel, in Woodbridge, and there go the rector and the church wardens to give away the bread according to the quaint old bequest.

CHICAGO AUTO SHOW EQUAL TO GOTHAM'S

Main Exhibition in Coliseum and Overflow Displays in First Regiment Armory.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Feb. 2.—Comparing favorably both in the number and class of its exhibits with the recent New York show the sixth Chicago automobile show opened today under the auspices of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers. Following the precedent established last year the main exhibition is held in the Coliseum, with the overflow exhibits housed in the First Regiment armory. The first floors of the two buildings are filled with scores of complete machines, while parts and accessories are exhibited in the galleries. The exhibition will continue through the coming week and from all indications will be well attended.

PRIESTS WILL BLESS THROATS TOMORROW

Festival of St. Blaise Will Be Celebrated in Roman Catholic Churches of World.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Feb. 2.—All the Roman Catholic churches of the city are preparing for the celebration tomorrow of the festival of St. Blaise, a saint whose aid is invoked for protection against diseases of the throat. St. Blaise was bishop of Sebaste in Armenia, in the early days of the Christian church, and was martyred on February 3. During his lifetime he is believed to have cured miraculously a young man suffering from a disease of the throat who was brought to him for his blessing, and after his death the distribution of his relics among the faithful was coincident with the cessation of a throat disease which had been sweeping off thousands of children. The martyrdom of St. Blaise is also commemorated in the Greek church, but the festival falls on February 13.

PRESENT PREMIER IS VERY CONFIDENT

British Columbian Elections Being Held Today—Socialist and Labor Parties Active.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Victoria, B. C., Feb. 2.—Following one of the most vigorous campaigns in the history of the province an election is in progress today to determine the political complexion of the British Columbian parliament. The contest is an exceedingly complicated one, rendered more so by the activity of the socialists and the entrance of the new labor party into the fray. Premier Richard McBride and his lieutenants, after a campaign tour that has carried them to every nook and corner of the province, appear confident of success. Questions of finance and railway subsidies are the chief issues around which the contest revolves. The new parliament will assemble early in March.

Indiana Pet Stock Show
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 2.—The largest and most interesting show ever held by the Pet Stock fanciers' association of Indiana opened in Tomlinson hall today, to continue through the coming week. NEWS OF COMING WEEK FORECAST IN BRIEF MANNER

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—The senate committee on military affairs will on Monday begin taking testimony on the Brownsville affair. The Penrose-Macdonald court-martial, growing out of the same affair, will begin on the same day at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

The trial of Representative Binger Hermann of Oregon, charged with the destruction of certain letter press copy books when he retired from the office of commissioner of the general land office, was to have commenced here Monday, but at the request of counsel has been postponed for one week.

The fourth great convention of the Religious Education association will open in Rochester on Tuesday and continue its sessions for three days. From present indications congress will be kept busy during the week chiefly with matters of a routine character.

The dinner to be given by the Pilgrims in London Wednesday night in honor of James Bryce, the new ambassador to the United States, probably will be made an occasion for the exchange of friendly words to remove the last vestige of ill-feeling over the Sweetnam-Davis affair.

The seventh annual meeting of the North American Fish and Game Protective association will be held Wednesday and Thursday in Quebec.

Rear Admiral William W. Mead, one of the veteran officers of the United States navy, will be placed on the retired list Friday by operation of the age limit.

LOWER HOUSE PAYS TRIBUTE TO GORMAN

Eulogies of Late Senator from Maryland Given and Adjournment
Then Taken.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—Memorial exercises were held in the house this afternoon in honor of the late Senator Gorman of Maryland. Addresses eulogizing the life, character and public services of Senator Gorman were delivered by leading members on both sides of the aisle. Adjournment was taken at the conclusion of the exercises as a further mark of respect.

MINNEAPOLIS HAS A TUBERCULOSIS SHOW

Follows Other Large Cities, in Demonstrating Ravages of the Great White Plague.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 2.—A tuberculosis exhibition, similar to the exhibitions held in other large cities of the country recently, opened in Minneapolis today. The exhibition comprises many pictures, charts, statistical tables, model apparatus and models of sanitariums, all bearing upon the prevalence, the prevention and the remedy of the "white plague." During the coming week, in conjunction with the exhibition, there will be held a big anti-tuberculosis congress, comprising the Western Conference on Tuberculosis and the Minnesota State Association for the Relief and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

EDUCATORS GATHER WITH "REVERENDS"

Religious Education Association Will Hold Convention in Rochester
Next Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 2.—The advance guard of visitors has reached Rochester to attend the big national convention of the Religious Education association, to be held in this city during the coming week. A reception in honor of the visitors was given this afternoon at the home of Dr. Rush Rhees, president of the University of Rochester. The coming convention promises to be the greatest of its kind ever held in America. Some of the prominent speakers who will be heard are President W. H. P. Fiance of Brown university, Rev. Dr. Wallace McMillen of Madison Avenue Methodist church, New York city; Dr. Luther H. Gulick, director of physical training in schools of Greater New York; President F. S. Luther of Trinity college; George H. Ehlert of Cleveland, Ohio; J. A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, and E. E. Brown, United States commissioner of education. In connection with the religious education gathering there will be a convention of the General Alliance of Workers with Boys, of which Judge Ben B. Lindsay of Denver is president. The papers and discussions will revolve around the general subject of "Character-making Elements in Work with Boys." The sessions will be held in the Brick Presbyterian church and will continue several days.

DR. CRASPEY IS TO 'BE AMONG SPEAKERS

MORTON WEDDING MOST BRILLIANT OF SEASON

Society Folk From Washington And Other Cities, Guests---Groom A Millionaire And Yachtsman.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Feb. 2.—One of the largest and most brilliant weddings that New York has seen in a long time took place in the fashionable St. Thomas's church this afternoon, when Miss Pauline Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morton, became the bride of Mr. J. Hopkinson Smith, Jr., millionaire and yachtsman. A distinguished party of society folk came over from Washington for the ceremony, and many other guests were present from Chicago, Boston, Portland, Newport, Philadelphia and other places.

Seldom has there been seen a prettier bride than Miss Morton, in her magnificent imported wedding gown of white satin trimmed with priceless lace. The bride's attendants included a half dozen young ladies well known in society. Miss Mary Candy of Chicago was the maid of honor, and the six bridesmaids were Miss Lily Lee Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Page; Miss Martha McCook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. McCook of this city; Miss Matilde Townsend, daughter of Mrs. Richard H. Townsend; Miss Katharine H. Elkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins; Miss Florence Howland, and Miss Jean Oliver of Washington, D. C.

Mr. St. John Smith acted as his brother's best man. Eight young men prominent in New York society were the ushers.

The Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas's, performed the ceremony, which was followed by a large reception at the Morton home on Park avenue.

The bride of today is the youngest daughter of Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy and president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, and the granddaughter of the late Sterling Morton, who was secretary of agriculture under President Cleveland.

Since she made her debut in Washington a little over a year ago Miss Morton has been much in the public eye. She officiated at the christening of the training ship Cumberland at the Charleston navy yard, while another achievement that brought her into the limelight was the loss of a $3000 pearl necklace on the street in New York, which was recovered through the honesty of its finder, a young girl.

James Hopkinson Smith, Jr., is a native of Portland, Me., and is only 25 years old. He has, however, already won international fame. He began going to sea when he was only five years old, with his German nurse and an old sailor. As soon as he was old enough he had a boat of his own, the Gee Whiz, and became one of the best boat sailors on the New England coast. He also had great ability as an oarsman. He rowed on school crews at Groton and in his freshman class crew at Harvard, where he completed his course in three years, graduating at the age of 19 in 1902. This was the year that B. B. Cronwinsted built the Uncle Sam, a 30-footer, and Francis B. Riggs took her to Kiel to sail for the Emperor in the Kiel regatta. Young Smith was at Kiel in the Golet yacht Nahma, and Emperor William asked him to sail the Uncle Sam. Smith won two of the three races, and brought home the cup.

The romance of Miss Morton and Mr. Smith began a couple of years ago when they met for the first time at a White House reception. Miss Morton's only sister was married several years ago to William Chapman Homer, a mining engineer, who now lives in the City of Mexico.

MRS. SAGE GIVES A MILLION.

Handsome Present to Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Announced.

New York, Feb. 2.—At the annual meeting of the alumni association of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, held at the St. Regis hotel, Friday night, announcement was made of the gift by Mrs. Russell Sage of $1,000,000 to that institution.

Mr. Sage was a trustee for the institute for more than ten years, and his nephew, the late Russell Sage, II, was graduated from the school in 1869. Mr. and Mrs. Sage both lived in Troy for a considerable time, Mr.
Sage being a member of congress from that district.

It is understood that the funds will be applied to the establishment of a new department to be called the "Russell Sage school of mechanical and electrical engineering."

lowing a stroke of apoplexy, aged 52 years. Mr. Krause was for years one of the most extensive holders of Ohio coal lands, his properties comprising some of the most valuable fields in the Massillon district, but recently he had disposed of the bulk of his holdings of this kind and his estate, which is estimated at several millions, consists mainly of stocks in coal and other properties.

LENT DRAWS NEAR;
EARLIER THIS YEAR

Forty Days Begin Feb. 13, Fifteen Days Earlier Than Last Year.

Lent, the season of self-denial, fasting, and a rigid adherence to the simple life, commences fifteen days earlier this year than last. Between now and Feb. 12 it is up to the members of the social whirl to get as many functions and society events into the limited period as is possible. Local society is generally very quiet during the Lenten season, and when Ash Wednesday draws near, the ball gowns, the dainty high-heeled slippers, the opera coat, in fact all the wearables that signify red light waltzes, comic operas, etc., are carefully hung up for a period of forty days. March 21 marks the date on which Easter will fall and April 1, although a day of joking, will mark the commencement of the post-lenten season of social activity.

ance.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

Dear Editor Gazette: Will you kindly allow me the privilege of asking a question of the citizens of Janesville?

Is the Janesville Sash & Door Co.
(situated on North River St.) to become a thing of the past?

If I am correctly informed, within the next few weeks, the doors will be closed; between seventy-five and one hundred men will be thrown out of employment, and between thirty and thirty-five families be compelled to leave Janesville. The pay roll is about five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) per month, most of the money being spent right here in Janesville.

Of course, some of the men will probably find employment at other places here, but the work is not just the same as they have been working at for years. Many of the men in this establishment have been at this work so long that they are expert workmen and typical mill men. Mr.
O. B. Guettler, who has had charge of the work for the past few weeks, is a man perfectly competent to manage such a mill. These men can readily obtain work in other cities; and many of them are now engaging work elsewhere.

Charcoal Stops Gas
On Your Stomach

Wonderful Absorbing Power of Charcoal When Taken in the Form of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

Trial Package Sent Free.
Charcoal, pure, simple charcoal, absorbs 100 times its own volume of gas. Where does the gas go to? It is just absorbed by the charcoal—the gas disappears and there is left a pure, fresh, sweet atmosphere, free from all impurities and germs.
That's what happens in your stomach when you take one or two of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful purifiers science has yet discovered.

You belch gas in company, sometimes, by accident, greatly to your own humiliation. That is because there is a great amount of gas being formed in your stomach by fermenting food. Your stomach is not digesting your food properly. Gas is inevitable.
Whenever this happens, just take one or two of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges right after eating, and you will be surprised how quickly they will act.
No more belchings; no more sour risings. Eat all you want and what you want, and then if there is any gas going to be formed, one of these wonderful little absorbers, a Stuart Charcoal Lozenge, will take care of all the gas.

And it will do more than that.
Every particle of impurity in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away by the charcoal. No one seems to know why it does this,
but it does, and does it wonderfully.

You notice the difference in your appetite, general good feeling, and in the purity of your blood right away.
You'll have no more bad taste in your mouth or bad breath, either from drinking, eating or smoking. Other people will notice your bad breath quicker than you will yourself. Make your breath pure, fresh and sweet, so when you talk to others you won't disturb them. Just one or two Stuart Charcoal Lozenges will make your breath sweet, and make you feel better all over for it. You can eat all the onions and odorous foods you want, and no one can tell the difference.

Besides, charcoal is the best laxative known. You can take a whole boxful and no harm will result. It is a wonderfully easy regulator.
And then, too, it filters your blood,
every particle of poison or impurity in your blood is destroyed, and you begin to notice the difference in your face first thing—your clear complexion.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from pure willow charcoal, and just a little honey is put in to make them palatable, but not too sweet.
They will work wonders in your stomach, and make you feel fine and fresh. Your blood and breath will be purified.

We want to prove all this to you,
so just send for a free sample today,
then after you get it and use it, you will like them so well that you will go to your druggist and get a 25c box of these Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.
Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by where, preparatory to leaving when the mill closes. We do not want to leave you; but must go where our husbands, fathers and brothers may obtain employment.

Within a few weeks our household effects will be loaded on freight cars and sent to other cities, where we must take up our abode. Our children, in the public schools, must pack their books and go with us to enter other schools. If a mill, similar to the one here, will pay in other places, why not here in Janesville?

An up-to-date building, properly equipped, would surely do so. We all want to stay, but must soon reluctantly bid farewell to Janesville, as it seems there is not enterprise or capital of sufficient amount in Janesville to keep such a mill running.
This is a simple plea to let us remain with you, but presume it will carry little or no weight, as it is written by
Only the Wife of One of the Employees.

Mr. Editor: All hail to Adam Max!
Without experience as an officer he has accomplished more in one day than a whole police force has in many months. And furthermore he had not taken an oath to see that the city ordinances were obeyed. I nominate Max for mayor or—something.
B. BAXTER.

To the Editor: I am seeking information as to whether an alderman can run for the office of Mayor and still retain his office of alderman. As there are two aldermen at the present time seeking higher honors is not this a question worth considering? If either of them are nominated it will cause a vacancy in the aldermen from the wards they represent and a special election at the expense of the entire city will have to be held to fill this vacancy.

NORTH DAKOTA SUFFERS

EXPERIENCE BELIES RAILWAY
MEN'S VIEW OF SITUATION.

Severe Blizzard Strikes Aberdeen, S.
D.—Twenty Cars of Coal Being Rushed to Reno, Nev.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 2.—A railway mail clerk just in from a trip between St. Paul and Jamestown, N. D., says the report of railroad officials that there is no actual suffering along the lines of railroad in North Dakota are not true. He says:

"The facts learned on my last trip hardly agree with the popular view of the situation that is said to have been expressed by the officials of the Great Northern. They are quoted as saying:
they knew of only two cases of suffering along their lines—one man who got out of crackers and another had no more tobacco.

"I met a friend of mine, a postal clerk, who had just been stalled in a train for 18 days on the Marion branch of the Northern Pacific. He told me that, in all that time, he had seen no potatoes. At the village of Marion, he said, they were entirely out of flour and sugar, and they were burning up their sidewalks and were trying to burn screenings from the elevators.

"It is not true that the railroads are opening up their branch lines."
Aberdeen, S. D., Feb. 2.—A severe blizzard swept down from the northwest Friday night and the local forecast is for temperature of 25 degrees below zero Saturday.

Evansville, Wyo., Feb. 2.—A train of 20 cars of Pennsylvania coal is being rushed westward on passenger train schedule for Reno, Nev., to break the fuel famine existing there. Arrangements have been made to place armed guards on the coal cars after the train leaves Ogden to prevent its being confiscated while passing through the famine districts.

GOVERNOR OF CARACAS SLAIN.

Assassinated by Partisans of 'First Vice President Gomez.

Caracas, Venezuela, Monday, Jan.
28, via New York, Feb. 2.—Gen.
Luis Mata y Ilias, the governor of Caracas, was assassinated last night by a crowd of intoxicated partisans of Vicente Gomez, the first vice president of the republic.

Caracas, Venezuela, Jan. 30, via
New York, Feb. 2.—The men who murdered Gen. Luis Mata y Ilias, the governor of Caracas, in a cafe in this city last Monday night, were captured in the mountains without bloodshed and are now in prison here.

Domingo Carvajal was appointed governor, but he died of heart failure a few hours after being told of his appointment. The appointment of Dr.
Angel Carnevali Monreal as governor of the city was announced Wednesday.

Palmyra Island Flooded.

Vicksburg, Miss., Feb. 2.—The private levee surrounding Palmyra island, about 20 miles below here, has broken and the water is flooding the island, which is comprised of five plantations, including Blufffield, the old Jefferson Davis plantation. Because of the immense size of the island the damage will not be great.

Mrs. Bion J. Arnold Dies.
Colorado Springs, Col., Feb. 2.—Mrs.
Stella E. Arnold, wife of Bion J. Arnold, the noted electrician and electrical engineer, died in this city Friday night of tuberculosis. Mr. Arnold is chairman of the Chicago Traction commission and is one of the foremost consulting electrical engineers in the country.

Christian Science Wins.
Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 2.—The senate
Friday killed the anti-Christian Science bill. The bill made it necessary for Christian Science practitioners to secure a physicians' license. A similar measure is pending in the house.

BURLINGTON WON IN
BASKET-BALL GAME

Played at High School Gymnasium
Last Night, by the Score of 30 to 24.

At the high school gymnasium last night the Burlington, Wis., basketball team defeated the J. H. S. five in a fast and interesting game, the final score being 30 to 24. In a preliminary contest the high school second team won from the Y. M. C. A.
Juniors by the score of 21 to 12.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

To Read Letters: Every minister receives from time to time letters of inquiry and suggestion on many different phases of religious and moral thought, from many different kinds of people. The pastor of the Congregational church plans to review some such letters at the Sunday evening services, beginning tomorrow night.
Some of the letters are anonymous, but in every case the identity of the writer will be scrupulously concealed and all confidences sacredly guarded.
The letters are used, because they bring out some of the questions and difficulties of the human heart, and enable the speaker to try to meet them. The subject for tomorrow evening is What Shall the Soul Do with the Past?

Regular Meeting: The regular meeting of the Associated Charities will be held at Heimstreet's drugstore
Monday afternoon at three o'clock.
They have had calls for children's clothes and underwear until the stock is all gone and can use lots more. If you have any to spare, no matter how little, send them to Heimstreet's drugstore.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair and colder tonight with cold wave, Sunday fair and colder.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

In this busy age of rush and prosperity, there is a good deal of satisfaction in knowing that there is at least one section of the country that is free from annoyance, where people take time to live and breathe naturally.

This is the south, as carefree today as at any time in its history. The world may be moving rapidly, but not in this part of the country. Time is the only thing that moves fast and the native southerner has but little regard for time.

His favorite maxim is, "Never do today what can be done tomorrow." The old lady who had a shanty that leaked badly, said when it rained he couldn't fix it, and when it didn't rain the roof was all right. This is the principle that governs, and as a result the people are contented and happy.

Every farmer has a few orange and grapefruit trees, and if the entire crop sells to $50 it is called a good year. With a temperature seldom below 50, and usually from 70 to 80, the children go barefoot, the year round, and the family wardrobe is not expensive.

A little dried up old woman, who lives with her German husband in a two-room cottage on a fruit ranch containing about an acre of ground, said, "Yes, we had a good year; we had a nice lot of grapefruit, and sold the crop to Captain Dean for a nickel apiece. He paid us $11.00."

There are hundreds of families, scattered over southern Florida, whose modest income would make the average salary look like a gold mine, and yet they are the most contented people in the world.

The railroads are run on the same happy-go-lucky plan. The trains are from one to six hours late, and for no apparent reason except that they start when they get ready, and stop long and often, on the slightest provocation.

A couple of dark freight crews pulled in on a siding, the other day, to wait for the pay car. After they were paid off they went into one of the cabooses and shot craps for an hour, and when the most of them had been separated from their money, they pulled out for the next station.

Shortage of cars, and rush of business never annoy these easy-going people, and the 16-hour railroad day is not in demand. The northern tourist, who visits this land of perpetual summer, finds much to criticize, and yet the thought comes to him that these happy people are getting out of life a good deal more than many of us who aspire to greater things.

The thought that impresses the average mind, is that we want a good deal more than we need, and the desire to gratify those numerous wants, is the spur that makes life a drudgery, and results in physical and mental wreckage.

Here there is no ambition to keep pace with the procession, and no money is spent for appearance sake. There is no "400" and every man is his brother's equal. The man who owns the ranch is on a level with the man who works by the day, and both are satisfied; socialism and distribution of property is never mentioned.

It is not so much the climate as heredity that influences these people, for the same spirit prevails, to greater or less extent throughout the entire south. The rush and restlessness of northern people is a revelation to them, and the remark is frequently heard, "What are you all in such a hurry about?"

A short residence in this land of flowers and summer foliage, when the north is blanketed with snow, prompts the suggestion, that much can be learned of those carefree people regarding the great problem of life.

Only now and then a man from the north wakes up to the fact that he has only once to live in this world, and the awakening does not usually come until he is on the shady side of 60, and rapidly stepping down the decline. Then he starts out to play, and makes a failure of it because he has forgotten that he was over a boy.

In conversation with an old gentleman from New York yesterday, he said, "I have been coming to southern Florida for 20 years. I like to take my gun and dog and tramp through the woods a dozen miles every day, for it keeps me feeling young."

Another old man of 84, spends all of his time on the water, and both are as young in heart as they were 50 years ago, with minds just as bright and active.

These men have discovered a secret which many of us have missed, and that is, that it pays to cultivate a love for the rod and gun, inexpensive luxuries, when compared to the demands of social life and many times more wholesome.

If the boy likes the woods and streams, don't attempt to change the current of his life, for it leads to a green old age, and a roadway of safety.

The north is full of men who are prematurely old. They are physical and mental wrecks at 60, when they ought to be in the prime of life. The crazy ambition for money, and the mad rush for everything in sight, has sapped vitality and left them stranded.

It is all a mistaken notion. How much money does a man need anyway? Just enough to see him through comfortably, and a surplus for the wife if she happens to survive him. This don't mean a million or one-tenth of that amount.

This notion of piling up a fortune for an estate for the children, is a foolish notion. Give the children a good foundation, in the way of a practical education, and let them shift for themselves.

Then move out of the kitchen into the parlor and enjoy life.

Take a trip now and then, with the wife for a companion, and you will have to spend less money on tombstones and less time in remorse.

In other words adopt the methods of the south: take time to live and be surprised by the revelation. About the first question asked of a man after death is, "How much did he leave?" This never worries the man that has gone, and unless his estate represents more than money, it is a mighty poor inheritance.

God pity the old men, however wealthy they may be, whose demise is longed for by the children who care for them through the years of feebleness and helplessness. There are many such who are responsible for their condition because they abused life at its zenith.

Second childhood is always pathetic and seldom necessary, if life is used and not abused. A man at 75 may be a man among men as a rule if he will. Take time to live and happiness will reward the effort, while the estate will be enriched by a pleasant memory, more priceless than gold and silver.

PRESS COMMENT.

Latest Proceedings Pretty Tame
 Chicago Tribune: Has the famous Gridiron club of Washington changed its character and become a sewing society?

Not Qualified to Judge
 Bryan's Commenter: Chancellor Day says wages are too high in this country. The chancellor works for a salary.

Free Notice to Sailors
 Sheboygan Journal: The Gulf stream has made "important changes" in its course. Like the railroads, however, the Gulf stream does not pay for printing changes in its time card.

Also Tough on Punters
 Milwaukee Journal: It is said that Gov. Sweetenham pronounces his name "Sweetnam." This is hardly fair to the blackface performer who pronounces his like same.

Traveled Far Without Stimulants
 Elkhorst Independent: A respected Beloit resident celebrated the one hundred-and-fifth birthday anniversary last week and neither Duffy or Perry have had anything to do with it.

This Report Was Inevitable
 Exchange: A Chicago university preacher says Satan has shed his horns and is wearing a dress suit. We'll admit we've seen some fellows who looked like the devil in a dress suit.

Just Hunger for the "Melon"
 El Paso Herald: Baltimore is yelling for more water-bogger fortifications of the Chesapeake—not that she feels scared at all, but she would like to have the money spent there and thereabouts.

Sufficiently Embarrassing Now
 St. Louis Globe-Democrat: It is reported that more Philippine islands have recently emerged from the sea. To him that hath shall be given, but a large quantity of this sort of real estate might be unwelcome.

Vain Hopes for Glory
 Green Bay Gazette: Milwaukee is planning to carry off the majority of prizes at the coming dog show to be held in Oshkosh. Maybe the Teutons are laboring under the impression that a dog show means a winner contest.

Davidoff's Little Precaution
 Superior Telegram: At Foodosis, Russia, Gov. Gen. Davidoff, in fear of assassination, has issued orders that all men who meet him on the street are to turn their backs and hold up their hands until he has passed out of sight.

Handing it to "Sherbie"
 Milwaukee News: Mayor Becker says that young Patterson is not called upon to callous his hands—that he can do better service with his intellect. However, no one will ever be so unkind to "Sherbie" as to insist that he ought to work with his brain.

That's a Mild One Ashland Press: In the Indianapolis Star there appeared a few days since a poem headed "Shylock and Bluebeard," the paper rather sheepishly explaining the day following that it should have been headed "Shylock and Bluebeard." It's funny what a difference a few hours make.

Miss Gillette's Slow Press Agent
 Rockford Register-Gazette: Viola Gillette, an actress who comes here Saturday, killed an eight-foot rattlesnake bearing fourteen rattles when she was in the Rockies last summer. To have made it a real good story the press agent should have added that the beautiful player immediately built a fire, cooked the snake and ate it.

Then people would want to see her.

The Barber License Law
 The Janesville Daily Gazette: The barbers about Madison are all in favor of the bill to repeal the barber license law. So are those in every other part of the state that I have talked to about the measure. They are suggesting in place of it a law to provide that every barber shall have in plain view in front of his chair a pan or pot or vase of anti-septic into which he shall immerse his tools after each shave. Which doesn't seem real nice to me.

Senator Spooner
 La Crosse Chronicle: A few of the indisputable facts of the so-called senatorial situation in this state are that Senator Spooner is still in public life, that he is one of the ablest men in congress today, that he is reflecting credit upon Wisconsin every hour that he serves it in a public capacity, and that quite a sprinkling of his constituents have no more idea of discharging him than they have of turning the state government over to the dookhobors of piratical politics.

Dog Drags Big Bass-Drum
 New York Tribune: A curious custom connected with the Serbian army is the manner in which most of the regiments carry the big drum. It is not, as in most countries, slung in front of the man who plays it, but is placed upon a small two-wheeled cart drawn by a large dog, which has been so trained that it keeps its place even through the longest and most tedious marches. The drummer takes up a position behind the cart and performs on the instrument as it moves along.

Archbishop Favors Canteen
 Pond du Lac Commonwealth: The movement looking to the restoration of the canteen, at army posts, has found a firm friend in Archbishop Messmore of Milwaukee. An interview given out by the archbishop sets forth the position of this eminent prelate very clearly. He gives the people, who were instrumental in securing the enactment of the present anti-canteen law, credit for good intentions, but holds that the passage of the law was a serious mistake. He contends, and with good reason, that the interests of temperance would be better conserved by the moderate drinking which the canteen would permit, than by the dissipation which its absence promotes. The anti-canteen law has been given a fair trial and the results are of a character to discredit it.

"BIDDY" O'ROURKE
 BEHIND THE BARS

Charged with Being Implicated in the Theft of Pickled Meat from William Lenz Saloon.

The theft of a keg of fire-fish, a 25-pound pail of beef-hearts, and a 3/4 gallon pail of mustard from the South River street saloon of William Lenz on Tuesday and the false accusation of Adam Max, a bartender, led to the arrest and punishment this week of three liquor-dealers for Sunday selling. Lenz, Edwin Brown, and Fred Luebke were the men who paid $25 penalties. It is improbable that Max deliberately undertook to retaliate not only on the men who had wronged him but also on others in the same business, but he casually mentioned, in narrating to District Attorney Fisher what he knew of the circumstances leading up to the theft, that he had served or taken a drink in such and such a place, and the prosecutions, which really belonged to the domain of the city attorney, followed. It now develops that the chain of episodes is not destined to end with the prosecutions before-mentioned.

Last night Louis ("Biddy") O'Rourke was arrested on the charge of being implicated in the theft and when he is sufficiently sober will probably plead guilty. In municipal court this morning he waived examination and is held under $800 bonds pending his trial on Feb. 7. O'Rourke is alleged to have confessed to the police that, while in a state of intoxication, he was persuaded by a second party to assist in making way with the stuff and that they disposed of it for a small sum to Edwin Brown. According to his story they told Brown that a car had been wrecked in the yards and that they secured the plunder from the railroad men in charge. The plausibility of this yarn is questioned by the officers, since the goods which they have recovered from the Brown establishment are labeled with cards addressed to Mr. Lenz by the Milwaukee concern from which he purchased them.

O'Rourke was sent to state's prison for one year on Feb. 19, 1895, after having been convicted of stealing a gold watch, worth $20 from A. D. Hendricks. Subsequently he and "Red" O'Donnell are alleged to have done time for the theft of some timepieces at Whitewater.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Carrier Better: Late this afternoon it was learned that Miss Zee Carrier who is very ill with typhoid pneumonia at Edgerton was reported to be slightly improved.

On a Trip West: L. M. Nelson and W. J. McIntyre will depart on Wednesday for extended visits in the west. They will travel together to Kansas City, El Paso, and Phoenix, Arizona, where the latter will stop for a lengthy visit with his wife. Mr. Nelson will go on to Los Angeles and San Francisco and will make his way leisurely homeward via Salt Lake City and Denver. He expects to be gone about 60 days.

"Waiting at the Church": This afternoon a couple from Belvidere tried to obtain at the courthouse a marriage license and special permit to wed at once. The prospective groom, however, was under age and had failed to bring along the written consent of his parents. At three o'clock he telephoned to his mother to come at once and meantime the two are patiently waiting in County Clerk Lee's sanctum.

RACING DATES FOR 1907.

Jockey Club and Western Jockey Club Schedules Announced.

That the stewards of the Jockey club, the controlling turf body in the east, are not afraid that the present New York racing law will be repealed by the legislature was evident by their action when they assigned the racing dates for the year. They came to an understanding in the allotment of days to each track much earlier than last year. This would tend to show that the racing officials are acting in harmony.

All of the stewards, with the exception of Chairman August Belmont, were present. In Belmont's absence James R. Keene presided. A list had been previously agreed upon and met with Belmont's approval. It was only necessary for the stewards to take a formal vote on the dates and pass them.

They are practically the same as last year, with the exception that Belmont park (New York) will have two meetings in the spring of nine days each. Last year it had a short meeting of six days and followed it later with twelve days after Gravesend (N. Y.) had a short meeting. This year the latter track has six days to begin the season with.

Belmont park, Sheepshead Bay and Gravesend have thirty days altogether. This is two more than Brighton Beach (New York), seven more than Saratoga (N. Y.) and eight more than Aqueduct (New York) and Jamaica (New York). The last two seem to be the "goats."

The Buffalo, Bunnings and Pimlico (Md.) meetings were assigned long lists of dates.

All the men who officiated in various positions on the tracks last year were reappointed.

The dates assigned the various tracks were:

Queens County Jockey club (Aqueduct), Monday, April 15, to Thursday, April 25; ten days.

Fancy requires much, necessity but little.—German Proverb.

Wonderful Power of Light.
 The extraordinary resuscitating power of light recently received a curious illustration in the silver mines of Laurium. A mine had been abandoned 2,000 years, when some poppy seed was found beneath the slag. The slag being removed, in a short time the entire space was covered with the most gorgeous show of poppies. After 20 centuries' rest they had bloomed as vigorously as if they had been borne by flowers of vester day.

Cloaks at Half Price..

The half prices being put upon the cloaks has awakened a lively interest in this department, and in addition to making such big reductions we also display more new garments than any one in town.

"MAN ALIVE"

What are you paying $10 for gold crowns for? Don't you know that Dr. Richards is making the very best gold crowns in Janesville at just $5 each.

Be alive to your own interests. Let him do your dentistry, and keep that extra $5 bill in your inside pocket.

Sentiment is all O. K. Friendships are all right. But it takes money to buy groceries. If you choose Dr. Richards for your dentist you may have your teeth properly cared for and at the same time enjoy the comfortable sight of that extra five dollar bill peeping out at you every time you open your purse.

How can he do it? Because he has not signed a written agreement with 8 or 10 other dentists swearing to charge everybody $10 each for gold crowns. He makes the best crowns made in the city. They are pure 22K gold. They are beauties. They fit. His price of $5 leaves him a reasonable profit and he is satisfied. Come over Hall & Sawyer Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

ELBRIDGE FIFIELD'S 90TH ANNIVERSARY

Pioneer Settler of City Celebrates Birthday With Quiet Family Reunion.

Still enjoying good health Elbridge G. Fifield, one of Janesville's earliest residents, celebrated the ninetieth anniversary of his birth today. The observance was very quiet. The chief event being a family reunion. Those present were his sons, Frank and James Fifield, daughters Mrs. Sarah Bull, Mrs. Helen Sherrier and Miss Katherine Fifield, and their families. Mr. Fifield was born in Gilmanton, N. H., and in May of 1837 came to Wisconsin in a party of western pioneers. The journey was made by stage and boat to Detroit, Mich., and from thence on foot to St. Joseph, a distance of 20 miles. Subsequently Mr. Fifield and others boarded a slow-going schooner and eventually landed in Chicago, then a city of 3,000 inhabitants. The party reached Milwaukee on the 11th day of June, the same year and Mr. Fifield set out on foot for Bark river, now Hebron, Jefferson county, to notify E. G. Darling, who was building a sawmill there, of the arrival of his mother in Milwaukee. He at once engaged in the work a driving a four-ox team employed in hauling logs to the mill and it was with the lumber saved from some of these logs and purchased by Mr. Janes, that was built the first frame house in the valley above Beloit and the nearest postoffice was in Milwaukee. He came to Janesville in 1846 and opened the first regular lumber yard in the village. In 1855 he returned to Jefferson county, but after nine years' residence there, came to this city and has since made his home here.

OBITUARY.

John Lawler

Funeral services over the remains of the late John Lawler were held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Hogan, on South Franklin street, at half-past two o'clock yesterday afternoon. The body was consigned to its place of final rest in Mount Olivet cemetery with the rites of the Grand Army of the Republic. The pallbearers were from W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20—Joseph L. Bear, J. H. Bliss, A. F. Lee, L. Fisher, L. M. Nelson, and George Vinay.

Mrs. George Bowles.
Sad tidings of the death at Marengo, Iowa, of Mrs. George Bowles, his brother's wife, have come to Thomas Bowles, 217 South Main street. The deceased and her husband were early settlers of Rock county and for many years made their home in the town of Center. They had been married sixty-two years.

Mrs. Frederick Arnold.
Mrs. Frederick Arnold, an old resident of Indian Ford, passed away at the county farm this morning. She was seventy-six years of age and had been an inmate at the farm for the past four years. She leaves no relatives in America. Funeral services over the remains will be held tomorrow and burial will be in the farm cemetery.

To Attend Hardware Convention:
Fred Sheldon and Harry McNamara will attend the convention of the hardware dealers in Milwaukee Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week.

Society..

Miss Laura Mae Ryder, niece of Charles and Murillo Riker and sister of Florence Ryder, now Mrs. Wallace Lassell of Orfordville, Wis., became the bride of Frank Dearborn Lovering Jan. 31 at the home of Mr. Lovering's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Waldron, 2425 Girard avenue, in Minneapolis, Minn.

The service was read by Rev. J. S. Montgomery in the presence of a group of relatives and friends, and was followed by a reception, to which about one hundred cards had been issued. An altar of palms and ferns was arranged in the parlor for the ceremony and the lights were pink shaded. Red roses and red-shaded lights made a pretty ornament in the library, where clusters of flowers topped the bookshelves and found a place in the vases on the study table. In the dining room yellow was suggested by bouquets of jonquils and daffodils, which flanked their golden beauty in a large basket in the center of the table and in vases on the buffet.

Before the ceremony Burton Kitchell sang "Beloved, It Is Morn," and Miss Beatrice Lovering of St. Paul played "Lohengrin" choros after a two little ushers, Lawrence Waldron and Marion Lawrence stretched broad satin ribbons from the stairway to the altar. During the service Miss Beatrice Lovering played "The Evening Star" from "Tannhauser," with violin obligato by Miss Josephine Curtiss.

Miss Ryder wore a bridal costume of white silk mull over silk with garniture of real lace. Her bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. William Lovering Waldron carried the ring on a large satin pillow. George Lawler was Mr. Lovering's best man. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Lovering after the service were Mr. and Mrs. Waldron and Miss Rose Ryder. Mr. and Mrs. Lovering left in the evening for Pittsburgh, where they will be at home after March 1.

James A. Fathers has received word from James Henry Harris of Chicago, Major General and Department Commander of Illinois, to the effect that he and several members of his staff will be here in full dress uniform for the sixth annual military ball to be given by Canton Janesville No. 9, Patriarchs Militant, at Assembly hall next Tuesday evening. Col. D. C. Stocking of Rockford and well known Odd Fellows from several other cities of the state are among the staff-members expected.

On Thursday next a party of Janesville people leave for Cleveland, Florida, where they will spend the remainder of the winter. In the party will be Mr. and Mrs. George R. Barker, Miss Mary Barker, Miss Margaret Barker, Mr. Fred Bailey, Miss Grace Bailey, Harvey Bailey, Leslie Bailey, and Miss Edna Shoemaker. The party will go direct to Jacksonville and from that city to Cleveland, a few miles distant.

Thursday, February 14, is the date set this year for the annual Home Gathering of the members of the First Congregational church. This year it is planned to serve the supper to all of the guests at one time and long tables will be placed for the purpose in the Sunday school rooms. It is on this occasion that the church history and reports are read and the reunions are awaited with the most pleasant anticipations by all members of the congregation. Seven hundred invitations are to be issued.

Fifty invitations for a private masquerade were issued yesterday among the younger society folk of the city. The party is to be given Friday evening, February 22, in East Side Odd Fellows hall. The early appearance of the "bids" will allow ample time for the preparations of costumes, and the affair will probably prove to be one of the most unique in many seasons.

John Murphy entertained the members of the St. Cecelia society of St. Mary's Catholic church at his home in the Jeffris flats last evening. Piano selections by the Misses Camilla and Catherine Thiele and vocal selections by the members of the choir made the hours pass pleasantly and a delicious luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Decker entertained twenty-four friends at their home on Milton avenue last evening. The guests were called for in bobs and were thus treated to sleigh rides. Supper was served at seven o'clock and the evening was very pleasantly passed at the progressive clink tables.

Miss Vera Lyntz will go to Milwaukee next Tuesday and enter Milwaukee-Dewey college. She will take up the regular second semester studies and expects not only to complete the course which she had nearly finished in the Janesville high school but do other scholastic work.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris, Miss Vera Wilcox and Miss Elizabeth Wilcox are to entertain at a roller skating masquerade at the West Side rink on Tuesday evening. It is reported that many elaborate costumes have been arranged for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Roberty and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Roberty and daughter Kittie attended the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Roberty of the town of Center last evening.

Mrs. William Ruger, Jr., will entertain at a one o'clock luncheon on Thursday next for Miss Lingle of Bellefonte, Pa., who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ford.

Invitations for the second of a series of dancing parties, to be held at Central hall Monday evening, February 4, have been issued by the Red Carnation club.

Mrs. W. T. Sherer and Mrs. George Fifield were in Rockford Thursday to attend the Mendelssohn club concert, in which Mrs. J. F. Sweeney took part.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers sailed from Boston this morning for Italy on the White Star steamer Republic. They will be absent for three months.

Miss Marie Murphy of Sacred Heart Academy at Madison is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. Murphy, in the Jeffris flats.

Charles and Miss Lucy Shuler will depart in the near future for Washington, D. C., where they will make an extended visit with an aunt.

Miss Mabel Jackman was hostess on Tuesday at a luncheon for the Bridge Whist club. Miss Harriet Bestwick won the prize.

Mrs. Orion Sutherland entertained the Thursday Grand Club on Thursday last, Mrs. Frank Smith winning the first prize.

On Thursday next Mrs. Clinton H. Wilcox will entertain the Ladies' Thursday Grand club at her home on East street.

Mrs. Will Judd is entertaining the Ladies' Saturday Whist club this afternoon at her home on St. Lawrence avenue.

Mrs. Frank Farnsworth entertained two tables of bridge on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Byron Long and Mrs. H. Marsden of Edgerton have been spending the week with Janesville friends.

Mrs. A. P. Burnham entertains at cards on Tuesday and Thursday of the present week.

Mrs. William Sherer entertained a bridge whist club Friday afternoon.

Mrs. P. S. Baker and daughter Pearl visited in Chicago today.

PERSONAL MENTION.

JURY OF SIX TRYING COHEN DAMAGE SUIT

In Judge Reeder's Court Today—Services of Interpreters Required in Several Instances.

John Stanton, Henry Rogers, Charles Horn, Arthur Richards, Albert Melvin, and David Clark were drawn in Judge Reeder's court this morning as a jury to try the $200 damage action brought by Jacob Cohen against Mrs. Mary Dworkin and Esther Ditz, whom he charges with partially destroying his home on Riverside street and the furnishings thereof with an axe and sledge-hammer on Tuesday last. About a dozen of the Cohen and Dworkin factions were on hand to offer testimony but the trial proceeded slowly this forenoon, owing to the fact that the services of interpreters were necessary in several instances. The women understand little English. This afternoon the defense put its witnesses on the stand and it was hoped that the case could be finished before dark.

LOCAL LACONICS.

J. L. Spellman a Grandfather: Word has reached the J. L. Spellman home that Mr. and Mrs. Walter King of Minneapolis are rejoicing over the arrival of an infant son.

Successful in Virroqua: Wallace Livingston, who went from here to Virroqua at the first of the year to open a fire insurance agency, has met with success and is pleased with his future prospects.

THE VALUE OF A SINKING FUND

A sinking fund is a money set aside for payment of debts that mature in the future. Many cities have one. Every man should. You may be free from debt but a rainy day comes to all of us.

JAY COOKE, the great financier of war times, said: "What in the progress of time may intervene to help or hinder human plans is beyond the ken of any man."

There is no better way to invest your sinking fund than to own one of our certificates of deposit. They draw interest from the day the certificate is issued and are payable on demand. They can be easily cashed or transferred by your endorsement whenever you may be, and draw interest at 2 per cent if left four months and 3 per cent if left six months.

INQUIRE OF

James J. Hill

Hon. James J. Hill, noted railroad president and financier, was born near the town of Guelph in Ontario, Canada, on September 16, 1838. He received a common school education, and by 1856 he was employed in the offices of a steamboat company covering the Great Lake region. He stayed there until 1865, when he became the agent of the Northwestern Packet company. In 1870 he branched out for himself and established the Red River Navigation company. In 1875 he stretched himself outside of the steamboat business and organized the Northwestern Fuel company. He became president of the St. P. M. & M. R. R. company in 1883. He was made president of the Great Northern system of railroads in 1892. He lives in St. Paul, Minn.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

Great Winter Game Has Spread Over United States and Canada.

SPORT ORIGINATED IN CHICAGO

How a Puzzling Difficulty Was Overcome—The Smallest Space For Playing Game Is a Floor 40 by 50 Feet. A Scientific Sport.

Indoor baseball, as now universally played throughout the United States and Canada, is practically governed by the same rules as those which obtained at the initial game in the clubhouse of the Farragut Boat club of Chicago, where the game was originated several years ago. It has developed many players and a host of interested followers, but in all the seasons the changes in rules have been slight.

The principal difficulty to overcome when the game started was the puzzle of making the run from base to base after a pitched ball. Precise calculation of the time required for the catcher to throw to a base as compared with the time of a runner between bases (27 feet apart) showed that the stealing of second base rarely depended on the speed of the runner, provided he started from first before the catcher received the ball. Therefore the rule was made that the runner must not start "until a pitched ball has reached or passed the catcher" and so well has this worked that the same close play is found at second base as when a player tries to steal in the outdoor game under the old rule.

With this point successfully settled the other rules were more easily evolved, and with the proper balancing of the relative sizes of the bat and ball to meet requirements the game may be said to have started on its successful career.

Owing to the newness of the game and consequent inexperience of those who played, the score at first oftentimes ran into large figures, the record of the initial contest being 41 to 40. As the play of the athletes improved the result was much smaller figures and more on the professional basis of baseball until now, with numerous clubs and leagues all over the country, the game has reached a scientific standpoint hitherto unsuspected of fulfillment.

It can be played in any hall of size which will permit of sufficient light and room for the diamond and fielding, the composition of the floor being immaterial, as the rubber soled shoes required to be worn will allow running on even the waxed floor of a dancing hall. About the smallest size for a playing floor is 40 by 50 feet.

A larger surface will of course allow greater freedom for fielding and running.

The spectators are usually placed in the right and left bleachers, on either side of the catcher's territory and in the galleries, according to the construction of the room used for play.

At first the sport was confined to a few of the "social clubs" of Chicago, which had organized a league, but of late years great strides have been made toward having the game spread all over the United States. Many of the Chicago clubs have made trips to cities east and west and played indoor ball before large crowds of spectators, who had become initiated in the sport and consequently extremely interested, for it is said of indoor ball that it is the most exciting sport which the winter months give us, for the space allotted for play usually being somewhat confined, the spectators and players are at no great distance from each other, and the rapid action is of a very exciting nature.

Some excellent players have been developed, especially among amateurs. Several professionals have tried their hand, but find themselves outclassed by the more nimble amateurs, as agility rather than strength enters largely into the sport.

In playing the indoor game ordinary baseball suits are the proper dress, except that the spiked shoes are done away with and rubber soled ones used instead. At the knee and hip the trousers should be thickly padded.

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

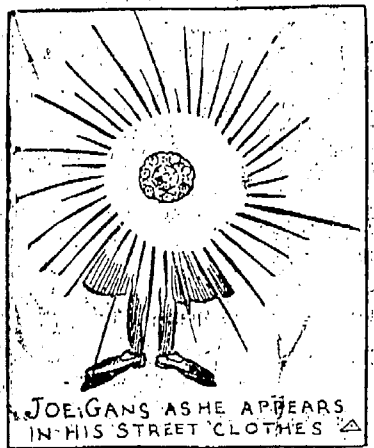

West Maltreats Joe Gans and Joits. Few Other Sportsmen.

Some of the lambs of the stock market are old enough to join the mutton class, and some of the major league ball players, verging on "second childhood," should carry shrouds and embalming fluid with them during the playing seasons.

P. S.—I refer to "embalming fluid" in the strictly technical sense, not in the sense known generally by ball players accustomed to being "laid out" without formality whenever they escape from the trainer's restless eye.

Joe Gans is what the society reporters would call a "nobby dresser." His favorite street costume is a 4 by 8 diamond that from a distance looks like a plate glass foundry.

If Joe would wear the glimmer in the ring he would not have to train at all. He would simply turn the calcium into the eyes of his opponent, poke his fist through the sunshine to the jaw, and all would be over.

A Chinese boy recently made his debut as a jockey on a well-known track. His riding had a very yellow complexion. He didn't repeat the success many of his countrymen have made as boxers.

I see that a contingent of French horse racing officials have come to America to study the American turf system. In order to avoid getting unreliable information the Frenchers should steer clear of—

The Jockey club.
The Western Jockey club.
The American Racing association.
The judges and other track officials.
The bookmakers, touts and professional tipsters.

Certain notoriety seeking ministers. The poolroom keepers, handbook men and "runners."

Those state legislators and city councilmen who receive annual passes to all tracks.

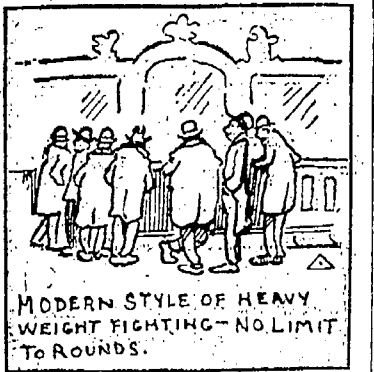

The governors and district attorneys who don't enforce the laws.

Well, then, whom should the Frenchers go to for trustworthy "info?" Why, to the glorious band of newspaper turt "dopers," who always tell all the truth about all the horses and all the horsemen and who never take bribes—in check form.

What's in a name, anyway? The Cornell cross country team has selected B. J. Lemon, a junior in the college of arts and sciences, captain for next year. J. A. Colpitts, a sophomore, was selected assistant captain. Lemon was a member of the victorious Cornell team last fall, and finished second in the Cornell-Marathon race.

President James E. Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic union in his annual message to the athletic congress makes a plea for more public baths in the large cities. There is a base insinuation in this suggestion of his. We here inform the worthy czar of sportdom that we are the cleanest nation on earth and that, furthermore, we can continue in this hygienic but not necessarily happy condition without an application of the whitewash that certain college officials have spread over some simon pure amateur athletes we could name.

There is a great deal of heavyweight fighting going on these days, though the general public will doubtless doubt the truth of the remark. The scene of action is invariably the nice warm interior of some hotel that is not too careful about the people it entertains. The pugilistic four flushers gather around about the "Hot Tom and Jerry" sign early in the evening and tell one another that they are looking so good that no one will send in a challenge. These fights are always to a finish, and the rounds are unlimited, from fifteen to thirty-five being the average duration, according to how carefully the "wind jammers" have been training.

Of course the man who stays on his feet the longest wins. This is the basic rule of all pugilism. Sometimes, too, the knockout is so violent that the victim does not return to sweet life for an entire night. WILLIE WEST.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Janesville Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Janesville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Janesville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

Mrs. B. F. Jones, of 157 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says:

"I was not free from attacks of backache for a single day during several years past, and used so many remedies without getting any relief that I came to the conclusion that nothing would help me and stopped trying. I went about all bent over, could not straighten up at all and had a dull pain across the loins and a feeling of weakness that made it hard for me even to rise from a chair. At night I would awaken with the feeling that a great weight was breaking my back, and anyone who has suffered from kidney trouble will know what torture I endured. Finally I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and wondered if there was really any use of trying another remedy, but seeing them recommended by people in Janesville I got a box using them. Gradually I regained strength and the pains and aches finally disappeared. Since I completed the treatment I have not had an attack of backache nor any symptoms of kidney trouble, and I believe Doan's Kidney Pills are worthy of all the praise that I can give them."

Kosmeo For Men

Few men can go bathing, fishing, rowing or golfing, without having their skin burned and blistered until the pain is intense.

Kosmeo prevents and cures sunburn promptly. Apply Kosmeo thoroughly at night and in the morning before going out in the sun—leave it on for a few minutes, then wipe off all that has not been absorbed, and you will never sunburn.

After Shaving

Kosmeo is delightful to use as it keeps the skin soft, smooth and firm, relieving all irritation.

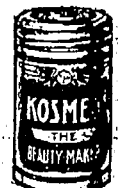

After shaving, wash the face in warm water, rub with a dry towel, then apply Kosmeo, rub it in well and wipe the face thoroughly with a dry towel. Powder may then be applied if desired.

Your skin will never get sore, chapped or irritated if you use Kosmeo regularly after shaving.

HOME-TRADE CLUBS

They Should Be Organized and Active in Every Community.

PATRONIZE HOME MERCHANTS

The Great Danger to Local Interests That Are Found in the Mail-Order Systems—Educate the Public.

(Copyrighted, 1906, by Alfred C. Clark)

Why should we trade at home? Why should we consider home in any way more than any other place unless it pays us financially? First, because it is our home. The pride we should take in the prosperity of our home town and our neighbors should be sufficient inducement to give them the preference. Second, because beyond all doubt or question, it pays from a money point.

The greatest menace to the country merchant to-day is the mail order business, and with the decline of the country merchant comes inevitable loss to the citizens of both town and country. What at first was considered a great convenience and an exhibition of commendable enterprise has grown to be one of the crying commercial evils. The success of the mail order house is the result of constant, extensive and intelligent advertising. It is not by persistent swindling as some tell us, for no business was ever built up in that way. The home merchant can do no better than to adopt the same method, the judicious use of printer's ink.

While the merchants are the heaviest immediate losers, and could do quainting the community with what he has to sell and with the fact that people could obtain at home, where they could personally examine them and return them if defective in any way, goods at as low a price as any catalogue house can sell them, every man and woman is to blame who sends away for goods; and every one who fails to raise his voice in favor of home trade. The editor holds the most responsible position and should be the leader in this movement.

The remedy has been outlined in a general way. We will suggest the first steps. Let merchants buy at home; they cannot consistently ask others to patronize their brothers in trade. The editors should patronize home, and even at considerable personal sacrifice refuse foreign advertising for lines of goods in competition with the home merchant. The editor deserves more credit than he receives. Many a well-to-do farmer or city man would think himself perfectly justified in sending away for all his groceries and clothing if he thought he could save ten dollars thereby on a year's purchases, but most editors forfeit many times that much every year by refusing advertising from distant firms in the same lines of business as his home merchants; and sometimes the home merchant even then declines to advertise.

Trade-at-home clubs might be organized, with mottoes something like "Club," or "I Patronize the Home Merchants," or "I Buy Nothing from Mail Order Houses," for members to display. The acceptance and displaying of such a card might constitute a person's membership.

Much of the trading away from home is due to thoughtlessness and ignorance of business principles. Many persons consider only the first

ADMIRAL DAVIS IS WARMLY PRAISED

PRESIDENT APPROVES HIS CONDUCT AT KINGSTON.

EVANS SUBMITS REPORT

Commanding Admiral and Secretary Metcalf Add Their Commendation of the Naval Officer's Course.

Washington, Feb. 2.—In unequivocal terms President Roosevelt Friday approved Admiral Davis' entire action in connection with his visit to Kingston, Jamaica, to render aid to the stricken city, and in addition requested the secretary of the navy to express to Admiral Davis his heartfelt commendation on all that he did.

The long expected report of Admiral Davis of the circumstances leading up to the withdrawal of the fleet from Kingston reached the navy department Friday and was at once laid before the president. Inasmuch as he already had announced that the diplomatic phase is a closed incident, the report itself will not be made public, but late in the day Secretary Metcalf gave out the letter of Admiral Evans, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, warmly commending Admiral Davis for his conduct of a situation "which was, to say the least, somewhat embarrassing." The admiral remarks further that it was particularly fortunate that there was at hand an officer such as Admiral Davis to deal with the problem which arose.

Heartily Approval by Evans. The correspondence is supplemented by a strong letter of commendation of Admiral Davis by the president and by Secretary Metcalf, who adds his approval and commendation of Admiral Davis' "distinguished service to humanity."

The letters are as follows: "United States Flagship Maine, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Jan. 23, 1907. Respectfully forwarded, approved, to the secretary of the navy, through the bureau of navigation, the report and its appendices made by the officers who were on the spot and therefore best able to judge, appear to set forth the whole situation very clearly."

"The commander-in-chief feels that he cannot too highly commend Admiral Davis for the very dignified and masterly manner in which he conducted a situation which was, to say the least, somewhat embarrassing, and he deems it particularly fortunate that there was at hand an officer such as he to deal with the problems which arose."

"The commander-in-chief heartily approves the commendatory remarks relating to the officers and men of the ships who accompanied Admiral Davis, but they did no more than is expected of officers and men in the navy, and no more than would have been done by officers and men of other ships of the fleet, and indeed, the ships sent were not chosen above those of others of the fleet for any other reason than that they were more nearly ready for steaming when the news of the disaster was received. R. D. Evans, rear admiral, United States navy, commander-in-chief, United States Atlantic fleet."

Praise from President. The president to Secretary Metcalf: "The White House, Washington, Feb. 1, 1907.—To the Secretary of the Navy: I have read carefully the report of Admiral Davis submitted by you, together with the report of Admiral Evans commending the actions of Admiral Davis at Kingston. I return them herewith and desire that you express to Admiral Davis my heartfelt commendation of all that he did at Kingston. I approve his entire action. He upheld the best traditions of our navy in thus rendering distinguished service to humanity—Theodore Roosevelt."

Indorsed by Mr. Metcalf.

Secretary Metcalf to Admiral Davis: "Navy Department, Washington, Feb. 1, 1907.—Sir: The department has carefully considered your report and those of your subordinate officers, on the aid rendered by your squadron to the distressed people of Kingston, Jamaica, after the disastrous earthquake and conflagration which visited that city. The reports, with Admiral Evans' indorsement approving your actions and praising your able performance of duty in the face of so much confusion and difficulty, have been submitted to the president. The president directs the department to express to you his heartfelt commendation of all you did at Kingston. In his note to the department he states that you upheld the best traditions of our navy in thus rendering distinguished service to humanity and approves your entire actions. The department desires to add also its approval and commendation of your able service, and those of the officers and men under your command. Very respectfully, W. H. Metcalf, secretary."

Fight for Wyoming Wool. Casper, Wyo., Feb. 2.—A lively fight is in progress in central Wyoming between rival buyers of wool for eastern houses. Wyoming's wool crop is estimated at 35,000,000 pounds this year. CLEOPATRA AS SHE WAS.

Historians and Poets Have Given Us Diverse Characters.

On the pages of Plutarch and Dion Cassius—so far as we are concerned—exists the one and only Cleopatra of history, writes S. R. Littlewood, in London Chronicle. Quite undoubtedly for any one who reads these without prejudice the Cleopatra who emerges is above all the Cleopatra of political necessity, the vigorous, able and unscrupulous queen, fighting for her throne and dynasty by every method in her power.

In the Cleopatra of the unadorned story there is remarkably little hunger and thirst after unrighteousness for its own sake. Each one of her immortal amours had its political purpose.

As for her suggested decadence, it is significant that she was a most excellent mother to her children—not only to Caesarion, but to the three she had by Antony, of whom the two eldest sons were twins. She is charged nowhere with any unnatural vices, and the money she lavished on Antony's pleasures was mostly his own. Also it is worth remembering that at her best she was not beautiful, but lively, racy, and "good company."

Now, out of this real, strenuous, practical Cleopatra what diverse wonders have not the poets created!

TONIC IN A SUN BATH.

In Most Cases Better Than Any Medicine Taken Internally.

Some one called the sun God's anti-septic and sterilizer, and certain it is that not half the people on the earth realize how large a part sunshine can play in cleansing, purifying and making whole.

No one can overestimate the value of a sun bath, and each year you see an increased number of children, wrapped up from the cold and comfortably tucked into the perambulators, on the sunny end of the piazza, getting the benefit of this greatest of nature's tonics.

Sun baths that are taken as a remedy for rheumatism, or to ward against sleeplessness, have better effect if they are followed by a warm sponge. If they are taken for any skin disease (and in such troubles they are exceedingly valuable), they should be followed by a warm bath.

Even when there is no special disease to fight, but just a sense of languor and fatigue, and a run-down nervous system, the sun bath will do good work—better than medicine.—Boston Herald.

Brilliance and Cleverness.

The difference between brilliance and cleverness is that a clever man may seem to be brilliant when he isn't.

How Porlock Got Its Name.

In North Somerset, England, said Henry Bradley, one might be told that once upon a time the devil and a giant laid a wager, the latter staking his soul, as to which could throw a stone furthest. The giant threw his stone four miles, but the devil beat him by a couple of yards, whereupon the giant exclaimed: "Poor luck!" and so the place has been called Porlock ever since.

Mr. Bradley then instanced the corruption of the word Kent (whose British name was Cantic) from a Welsh word meaning open country. It was possible that the word Cantic was derived from an old British word meaning promontory. As to London, the ancient name was Londinon. Lynn is Welsh for lake, and din for town or fort. What was more easy, asked Mr. Bradley, than to explain London as lake fortress? But it was known that in British of the second century the compound meaning lake fort would have been Lindodunon, so Lynddini would not explain London. The only philological explanation possible was that the place was called after a Briton named Londinos, meaning wild or fierce.

Revival of the Stock.

The early Victorian dandy has reappeared in Piccadilly, London, heralding a revival of the stock as the fashionable neckwear for men.

Walking down the classic avenue, a rising young author, tall and of distinguished appearance, attracted attention by wearing a faithful reproduction of the stock of the 1830 period. He was otherwise faultlessly dressed in the style of 1906-7.

To be a strict devotee of the new cult the modern dandy must wear a stock of black English silk, wrapped round the front of the throat, fastened at the back and tied under the chin in a large bow. The correct collar to be worn with the stock is a new style, cut low at the back and showing rounded points in front a quarter of an inch above the stock.

Has the Earth.

Some months ago excavations were being made for new tracks on the line of a certain famous railway. At one point a nearby resident obtained permission to remove a quantity of turf to resod his premises, the section boss being instructed to notify the excavating "gang" when the resident should have secured all he desired. The Hibernian's report is as follows: "The man that wanted the earth has got it."

Never Perfect.

"You often hear people speak of a perfect avalanche," remarked the Observer of "Events and Things," "did you ever see anything more imperfect than an avalanche?"—Yonkers Statesman.

You will decide with us that it is IMPOSSIBLE to describe their beauty.

Are you operating the tread mill to pour the wealth of your community into the bottomless hoppers of the mail-order house? Are you driving your local merchants out of business? If you are you are killing your town and your own interests.

much toward checking and correcting this growing evil, by liberal advertising and publishing prices, they should not be expected to do it all. Every newspaper should preach home trade, every teacher should instill it into his pupils in the school room, every minister should preach it from the pulpit. The debating societies and political conventions should discuss it. The interests of town and country and newspaper and church, and society generally, are so interwoven and so identical that whatever injures one will eventually injure all. When the merchants are compelled to bring on smaller stocks, and employ less help, and pay cheaper rent, they are not alone the sufferers; the whole community feels the loss. The price of real estate is largely dependent on its proximity to a good town. Rents are dependent on the amount of business. The merchant can move to some other town and establish himself again more readily than can the professional man and many others who have built up business through years of acquaintanceship and establishment of character. If the farmer, or property owner in town, want to sell out they are the greatest sufferers—they can't move their property to some place where people are booming their town and country by patronizing home.

The remedy lies in education and publicity. In many places that education will come through bitter experience, but, in other communities, where they are quicker to detect the approaching evil, and heed more readily the warnings of the press and friends of home, they may correct the evil more readily.

Wealth and power are corrupting influences and the mail order houses are probably not sending out as honest goods as they once did. They have learned the tricks of imitation and substitution and how easy it is to deceive the public. But, if the mail order man is honest, and his methods of advertising legitimate in every way, his success is of no interest to us and will never benefit our community in the slightest degree. If crops should fail or sickness render us short of money we could not expect him to trust us for a dollar—we must always look to the home merchant for credit in times of adversity.

Who is to blame? The mail order house? Not in the least. We alone are to blame. The near-sighted merchant who has lost trade by not ac-cost; if they save 25 cents on a ten-dollar order by buying from a mail order house they consider that clear gain. They should be shown that a merchant and his family living in their midst, keeps up a house, pays taxes, adds to the social features, contributes generously towards public enterprises, etc. If by buying at home their town gives support to several more local merchants, creating a better home market, they get back a liberal percentage. Every man and woman takes more or less pride in local affairs and is willing to contribute something toward home improvements, if the matter is fairly presented. That is why I say the remedy lies in education.

Most mail order houses claim they are enabled to sell cheaper than country dealers because they buy in larger quantities and get especially low prices. This is often a base misstatement of facts; let me cite an instance: A stock man from eastern Washington was visiting in Kansas City. One morning, walking with his nephew, who was a clerk in a leading wholesale hardware house, he asked where Bland & Co.'s store was located. "Don't think I ever heard of them," replied the young man. "O, yes, I do remember the firm; they have no store, they have an office in (giving the name of the building), but I don't see how they can sell hardware as low as your home merchants, for while we sell them goods at less than retail price, we don't give them as low prices as regular dealers, because they buy in such small quantities, just as they get orders." The stockman was greatly surprised, he supposed he had been dealing with one of the largest firms in the city.

The mail order business has developed so slowly, and works so quietly that few persons realize the magnitude it has assumed nor to what extent it is now sapping the life-blood of many small cities and towns. Even now we hear the excuse given for sending away for goods, that the merchants carry such poor stocks. The wonder is that they carry any.

The Real Power.

A 17-year-old boy at Worcester, Mass., has a lung capacity of 300 cubic inches. When he grows up and goes to congress he will, perhaps learn that it is not the orator but the speaker who affects the course of national legislation.

Different.

Every rule won't work both ways. The man who frequently comes home late for supper kicks hardest when he comes early and finds supper late.

Old Blue Law Retained. The town of Westofen, in Germany, still enforces an old ordinance which forbids anyone walking in the streets with a lighted cigar.
